

Who vs. Whom in Adjective Clauses

Directions: (1) Place [brackets] around the adjective clause in the sentence. (2) Underline the verb in the clause. (3) Determine if the pronoun (who/whom) is the subject of the clause or an object and circle the correct pronoun.

1. The woman who/whom lives next door is a registered nurse.
2. I'm taking golf lessons from Erika Lavery, who/whom is a pro at the country club.
3. She is the woman who/whom we employed last year.
4. I will vote for the candidate who/whom you suggest.
5. Mr. Hartman is a history teacher who/whom also coaches track.
6. She is the woman to who/whom he has been married for thirty years.
7. How did you know the girl who/whom you were talking to?
8. The first person who/whom sells $500 in merchandise will get a raise.
9. The teacher who/whom taught English 101 last year has retired.
10. The teacher who/whom I have for English 101 is new to the position.